

CLAIMS

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

- 1           1.       A wallet card comprising:
2                   a thin flat substantially rigid substrate;
3                   a lens disposed within the substrate;
4                   a source of illumination disposed within the substrate adjacent to the lens;
5                   a source of electrical current coupled to the source of illumination; and
6                   a switch for selectively closing an electrical circuit between the source of electrical
7                   current and the source of illumination.
- 1           2.       The wallet card of claim 1 wherein the source of illumination comprises an LED.
- 1           3.       The wallet card of claim 1 wherein the switch comprises a pressure-sensitive switch
2                   disposed on the substrate.